

Women's Planning Network

Membership Form

The Women's Planning Network formed in 1994 to promote the role and interests of women in the planning and development process. The Network aims to educate and inform its members and other groups about the role of women in decision-making processes and raise awareness of women's perspectives.

The Network supports women as individuals and professionals as well as representing and responding to women's issues related to planning and development.
